About the Speaker:

GREG SIZEMORE

Greg Sizemore is the Vice President of Health, Safety, Environment and Workforce Development at Associated Builders and Contractors. In this role, he oversees a network of 800 education programs and leads ABC's health, safety, environment and workforce development initiatives. Sizemore is also responsible for ABC's Safety Training and Evaluation Process, a benchmarking improvement tool that dramatically increases safety performance among participants by reducing recordable incidents by up to 85 percent, making the best-performing companies' 645 percent safer than the industry average.

Additionally, Sizemore is a key liaison between the construction industry and the public sector on safety and workforce development. He has participated in several national priorities led by the Trump Administration, including a prison re-entry summit hosted by the White House's Office of American Innovation, as ABC President and Chief Executive Officer Michael Bellaman's official designee to the Task Force on Apprenticeship Expansion and the ABC representative for President Trump's "Pledge to America's Workers," where the association committed to educating and developing at least 500,000 Americans over the next five years.

For decades, Sizemore has been active as a volunteer leader in the safety and workforce development space. He is a past chair of the ABC National Craft Champions Committee and NCCER Workforce Development Committee. He currently serves on the board of directors of NCCER and is a trustee of the Construction Industry Alliance for Suicide Prevention.

About the Speakers:

HEIDI GERKE

Heidi Gerke is the Safety Director for the ABC Inland Pacific Chapter. In this role, she participates in the ABC National Safety Committee, runs the Chapter Safety Committee, uses her 16 years of knowledge to: educating ABC members on various safety topics, with LNI inspections and helping member superintendents and leaders create a safer workplace.

MARSHALL PANCOAST

Marshall Pancoast is the Safety Director for Walker Construction, Inc. He has been their Safety Director for 9 years with a decade of experience prior. Within his position he has chaired the ABC Inland Pacific Chapter's Safety Committee for 5 years and is currently on the ABC National Safety Committee. Marshall believes in a holistic approach to health and safety and that we need to be our best on and off the field to put forth our best efforts. He also Believes that construction is a team sport, and we must all come together to build and protect our future.
